Ryerson Opens New Service Center in Utah

Chicago, IL – April 13, 2009 – Ryerson Inc. announces the opening of a new service center in Clearfield, Utah that will serve the Utah Intermountain area. The new facility will offer a full range of aluminum, stainless and carbon products as well as sawing services. Future plans call for the addition of plate burning and a wider range of processing services.

Randy Booker will serve as the General Manager of the 40,000 square foot facility. Booker is a Utah resident of over twenty-five years prior to his recent five-year assignment for Ryerson in Northern California.

“The Clearfield facility is designed and staffed to provide world-class customer service and quality. We are very pleased to have assembled such a strong team of service-oriented professionals. Our supply chain includes overnight deliveries from Ryerson’s Denver and Los Angeles processing centers which allows Clearfield access to over 500,000 square feet of inventory and processing” Booker stated.
